

About Action on Pre-eclampsia (APEC)

Back to results

Action on Pre-eclampsia (also known as APEC) aims to raise public and professional awareness of pre-eclampsia, improve care, and ease or prevent physical and emotional suffering caused by the disease. APEC is a charity registered in the UK.

We run a helpline and provide information to members of the public who are affected by pre-eclampsia - be this pregnant women, their family and friends and anyone worried about pre-eclampsia. We run study days for midwives and health professionals who work with pregnant women, providing expert training on detection and management of pre-eclampsia. We also facilitate a unique expert referral service, whereby women can be referred by their GPs to an expert on pre-eclampsia in their area. APEC also provide leaflets to hospitals and maternity units informing women about pre-eclampsia and the importance of antenatal care.
